Why are we so eager to fight for you? Because for us, it's personal.

As a child, Thomas M. Jackson, Jr. saw Interstate 77 built through the middle of his family farm. That made him aware that a landowner has little ability to stop the taking of his land by corporations and governments, and is often pressured to settle with these powerful entities without receiving fair compensation. For that reason, he decided that as a lawyer he would do everything possible to ensure that landowners were compensated fairly and treated with the dignity and respect they deserve.
